Catholics Declare Oregon
Law Direct Slap

Nevada Refuses to Discourage
Divorce Visitors

Single Tax, Other Economic
Cure-Alls Smashed

(BY A. F. MONT WIRE)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—

California's adoption of prohibition, enforcement, Oregon's restrictions upon nearly all church parochial schools and other private schools. Nevada's decision not to change its divorce laws and Montana's probable authorization of the part-mutual system of betting on horse races are among the outstanding decisions on legislation taken by the voters in far-western States at last Tuesday's election.

California's measure makes the eighteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution and the Volstead Act, or whatever other enforcement legislation may be passed by Congress, part of the California statutes, changing automatically should the Volstead Act be amended or repealed. Despite the fact that grape-growing interests and others fought against the step, and that the cities of San Francisco and Sacramento voted "wet," all the other large cities of Southern California and most of the great interior of the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys combined to carry the measure.

OREGON SCHOOL LAW

Oregon's new law requires all children between the ages of 8 and 16 years to attend public schools except that those physically incapable, those who have completed the eighth grade and those who live at inconvenient distances or are taught by parent and private teacher are exempt. Those expected, however, must have their education supervised by the State.

A majority of more than 15,000 was given this act despite vigorous opposition of Catholic societies and laymen and many Protestant clergymen and representative citizens of Oregon. The measure took no stand in the controversy, but many champions of the measure were Scottish Rite Masons while the Ku Klux Klan admitted to be in favor of the proposed law.

NEVADA STANDS PAT

A proposal to make the residence requirement in Nevada before divorce one year instead of six months as at present, was beaten by a majority estimated at more than 7000, while another proposition on the ballot which, in effect, nullified the present Nevada divorce laws and forbids altering them for a period of three years had a majority of about 12,000.

The Montana initiative measure to allow the use of part-mutual betting machines for horse races at State and county fairs apparently was carried, as it had a majority yesterday of 10,000, with 45,100 votes reported.

Veterans' Welfare legislation was successful in both California and Montana. A veterans' bonus passed by the Montana Legislature had a 6000 majority on a referendum vote, and the California voters approved acts of the Legislature calling for the issuance of bonds up to $10,000,000, to enable veterans to buy farms and homes on easy terms. On the other hand, an effort in California to have the tax exemption of 1000 acres allowed all other veterans extended to those veterans who were released from active duty under honorable conditions, but not actually discharged, was beaten.

REALTY MEASURES

The voters expressed their opinion in several far-western States on questions of medical attention and public health. Osteopaths and chiropractors won the right in California to have licenses issued by examining boards of their own instead of by the State Board of Medical Examiners. Antivivisection measures were defeated in California and Colorado, and an attempt in Washington to prohibit the physical examination of school children except with the parental consent, also was lost.

Single tax proposals were voted down in Oregon and California. Washington repealed its poll tax law, and Oregon rejected an income tax. Portland defeated a proposed $3,000,000 tax for the Atlantic-Pacific Highway and Electric Exposition, to be held in that city in 1924.

Two bond issues were carried, a $6,000,000 highway block in Colorado and a $10,000,000 series in California, to be put out as needed for the purposes of selling farms and homes to veterans. The fate of Arizona's proposed $1,000,000 issue for the Phoenix-Los Angeles Highway is still in doubt.

An ambitious public ownership plan for California, by which the State was to undertake the development of all its hydro-electric and water resources, issuing bonds up to $500,000,000 as needed for the work, was lost by more than two to one majority.

Announcement that Ganna Walska, wife of Harold F. McCormick of Chicago, would make a concert tour of the United States, appeared yesterday in a page advertisement of a musical publication. It read: "Julius Dalber announces the first American concert tour and operatic tour of Ganna Walska, lyric soprano."

Dalber, a concert manager, could not be reached last night, but a friend said he had had other singer under contract since last summer when he made a trip to Europe to confer with her.

Communist Leaders Discuss Tactics for Dictatorship
at Moscow Congress

(BY GEORGE SELDES)

(BY CARL-REUBEN DISPATCH)

MOSCOW, Nov. 11 (Delayed).—

The congress of the world's communist leaders, yesterday discussed tactics for bringing about a world revolution to establish proletarian dictatorship everywhere.

It was decided that a "united front" policy must prevail. A united front is explained as mixing into every labor dispute and participating in every strike and working with the labor parties and labor unions, even with the hated Socialists, in order to win the workers to the red cause. United front tactics is a reversal from the former "divide and conquer" policy.

Most bitter attacks were launched yesterday, not against the Bourgeoisie, whom the Communists want to conquer, but against the labor parties and Socialist parties as they are known in England, America and elsewhere, which were summoned up as followers of the second internationalism.

It was declared that "the world is ready for Communism, but the second internationalism stands in the way. The third internationalism must strive to win the majority of workmen. It may take years—it may not happen before our next session."

The Socialist parties as they exist in America, Germany and England are called traitors and the tools of the Bourgeoisie. The Italian Socialists are assailed for cooperating with the Fascists. It was predicted that a "series of illegal attacks were coming against the working class this year, of which the Fascist victory in Italy was only the first. The reaction is growing in Europe."

MUSICAL DEMONSTRATION

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

ST. PAUL (Minn.) Nov. 12.—

Headed by a St. Paul delegation of nearly a score of automobiles, a parade of 1000 cars and about 1500 school children in costume representing various phases of the development of that part of Minnesota, heralded the Little Falls celebration of the opening of the Fairbank-Little Falls paved road Friday.

The affair is by far the largest good roads celebration ever staged in the State.

SKY BLUE MONDAY

Sky-Blue Monday
November 13, 1922

Good Morning, Mr. Cline:—

Good morning—tip-top—how are you?

Monday morning is the proper time to talk of "creating" things, don't you think?

According to a Hindoo myth, Vulcan was the original creating genius—and he started creating on Monday.

The myth goes on to say that after Vulcan had created MAN, he discovered that all of his creative material was exhausted. He hadn't a bit of solid stuff left—and his next job was to create WOMAN.

But Vulcan wasn't a piker—he looked around and found a whole lot of things, and for WOMAN this is what he took:

The roundness of the moon,
The undulating course of the serpent,
The graceful twist of the creeping plant,
The light shivering of the grass-blade and the slenderness of the willow,
The velvety softness of the flowers,
The lightness of the feather,
The gentle gaze of the doe,
The frolicsomeness of the dancing rebusman,

The tears of the cloud,
The inconstancy of the wind,
The timidity of the hare,
The vanity of the peacock,
The hardness of the diamond,
The cruelty of the tiger,
The heat of the fire,
The chill of the snow,
The cackling of the parrot,
The cooing of the turtle-dove,
All these he mixed together and created WOMAN.

But we, too, "create things" here at the Times-Mirror Printing and Binding House—printed things which in turn "create" business for our patrons.

We are specialists in "creative" printing and business-building advertising. Our capacity, facilities, and staff are equal to any in the West.

Let us start "creating" more business for you—no matter how much you are handling now—there's a way to get more.

The phone—or the postman—thats all.

Yours ever,

Sam Crabb

THE GREAT PRINCE SHAN

ward has commoner thoughtfully.

"My friend," she said, "I think that you would see an Englishman die, whether he were your friend or your enemy, very much as you kick a poisonous snake out of your path.

"It is quite true," was the calm reply.

"But America was once your enemy," she continued.

"With America we made peace,"

he explained. "With England, never. If you would understand the reason for that underlying hatred which I and millions of my fellow

Germans feel, read the Treaty of Versailles. It is the most brutal document that was ever printed."

She nodded slowly.

"What I think of that Treaty,"

I sympathize with you."

"Are you not then our friend?"

Immanuel asked.

"In a way," she acknowledged.

"I did something magnificent in your plans for vengeance. Then, on the other hand, I ask myself whether you do not make what they would call over here a cat's paw of my country."

"Ours is the most natural and most beneficial of all possible alliances," she said. "You have an equal bargain, though, which you seek to drive with us," she said.

"Germany, alas, of course, at world power, but you are still fettered by the terms of that treaty.

BUSINESS STILL ON UP-GRADE

Industrial Conditions Show Steady Improvement

Heavy Coal Production is Easing Fuel Situation

Pig Iron and Steel Mills Increase Output

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Continuation of the persistent improvement in industrial conditions is indicated by the various business and financial indices which break available records for the past week.

Loadings of railroad cars, with the revenue, show further gains, both in coal and general merchandise. The total loadings for the week ended October 23 amounted to 1,014,000 cars which is only four thousand cars less than loadings in the week ended Oct. 15, 1935, when the high record for all time was set.

Soft coal production has been established at a level of approximately 10,700,000 tons a week and the whole fuel situation is growing distinctly easier. Some observers go so far as to state that the danger of a coal crisis during the winter is past.

Meanwhile it is evident that the better coal and transportation situations have been of distinct help to the steel industry. October's production of both pig iron and steel exceeded that in any month in the last two years and the country's steel plants are now working at more than 75 per cent of capacity. Despite the heavy rate of output and shipments during the month, the steel corporation's unfilled orders increased by slightly more than 200,000 tons and the total now stands at 4,500,000 tons as compared with 4,140,000 at the end of last February.

As far as agricultural products are concerned, the feature of the past week has been a further strong rise in cotton. The December future rose to 10.80 which is over 6 cents above the price existing on October 2.

JUDGE .. MODEL .. MODERN .. VENUS

Beauty Measures Up to De Milo Standard

Dorothy Knapp

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Dorothy Knapp, model for James Montgomery Flagg and other artists, and winner of the Physical Culture beauty contest at Madison Square Garden last month, is the most beautiful and perfectly formed girl he ever saw, according to John Keck, one of the judges. The standard of perfection was the Venus de Milo, and Miss Knapp's measurements were exactly those of the classical ideal of beauty except for two unimportant measurements.

Miss Knapp, who was also one of the finalists in the Atlantic City contest as representative of New York, was far more nearly perfectly formed than any other contestant, the judges stated. Among the judges besides Mr. Keck were Henry Hering, and James Earl Fraser, sculptors, and Prof. Herman B. Moens, the art critic. Miss Hyatt, who said that her measurements were more nearly perfect than the winner, was lacking in the proper neck and calf measurements, according to Mr. Keck.

Bright Bill to Celebrate Anniversary

They are doing everything they can to make you feel good down at Loew's this week, because they feel good themselves, this being the first anniversary of the house. They are more or less successful, too, for everyone is leaving the theater in a happy frame of mind. The bill offered is one of those double-jointed affairs that is rather unusual because it is nearly a double bill. In other words, either feature might well be featured.

We'll take up V's case first. Viola Dana is to be seen in "The Five Dollar Baby," made from a story by Irvin S. Cobb that appeared in the Saturday evening Post. If you've ever heard of Cobb you know it's a good story. There are one or two twists that strike your funny bone, the first being the situation of the tramp who finds an abandoned baby and pawns it for $5. "V" is that kid after it grows up. It's a good show, all right, although we've seen Viola do better work in the past.

The other feature is the Amsterdam Roof Revue, staged by Jack and June Laughlin. The revue is just one of those familiar musical comedies, with the pretense of plot eliminated. The main object in view is to make tired mortals forget their troubles. With the aid of an eight-girl chorus, some specialty dancers, singers, etc., the object is realized. You forget everything while that act is on.

A Changed Campaign System Much of the effort that used to be expended in the campaign in putting up a torchlight procession is devoted now to keeping the expenditure down. (Detroit News)

Much Talent in Picture at Clune's

There's just one fault with "Fools of Fortune," showing at Clune's this week. Somehow or other it contrives to drag through five reels a story that could be better told in about half that length. Otherwise it is a very acceptable picture.

Screen talent is certainly not conspicuous by its absence here. We find Margaret De La Motte in the feminine lead, and Jack Dill opposite her, and among the rest of the cast are Tully Marshall, Russell Simpson, Frank Brownlee and Lillian Langdon.

The picture was adapted from "Assisting Annals," by W. C. Tuttle. In an aimless way it tells a familiar story of boy who ran away from home to join the Injuns out West, and how he got back to his folks in the East. Characters are fairly well cast, especially so in the cases of Dill and Simpson. Direction is by Louis William Chaudet.

SACRED SERVICE
SENT BY RADIOKHJ Carries Sermon Into Distant HomesBeauty of Music Praised by HearersCello and Singer Each
Highly Praised

Out into the beauty of the Sabbath morning yesterday from KHJ went the song, "O Holy Music, and the Gospel of God to the multitude. On the lower floors of the Times Building, where on other days there is the rush coincident with the publishing of a modern newspaper, all was silent, seemingly in reverence for the service which was being given in the broadcast studio on the roof of the building. And the message that went out into the homes of the universe, to the shut-in, the forest ranger, to those in mining camps, in the mountains, to all who listened in hill, valley and plain, was this: "What Think Ye of Christ?"

Dr. W. J. Dwyer, former president of the Church Federation, and head of the Lutheran in the Southland, delivered a sermon which carried home to his listeners a teaching which, he observed, will make for better men, women and children, among those who heard his words. Dr. Dwyer said, in part:

PERSONAL RELATION

"Jesus Christ makes a personal relation to each individual. He is the only one that reveals God. Others may speak of Him, tell of His life, assure of His grace, declare His truth, but Jesus Christ alone is the personal living touch of God with man, the only approach of man to the Father, the only approach of the Father to man."

"It follows that man's relation to God is determined through Jesus Christ, and what we think of Christ, that we think of God, and through Him to God."

"We have all heard of Christ, have read about Him, have talked about Him, and we have thought about Him. For 1900 years His name has been above every name. Through faith in Him the course of history has been overturned, new hope has been born to nations. He has supplied themes for artists and has been their inspiration. References to Him in the truths of His Gospel fill all literature. The principles of His kingdom have covered the enactment of laws. His benign influence has permeated all life wherever His word has been declared. The testimony of the world is that 'Never man spoke like this man.' The witness of His enemies was 'I find no fault with Him.' The certainty said: 'Truly this man was the son of God.' As a good man as a righteous man, as a world teacher and power all other men made from His presence."

PERFECT EXPRESSION

"What think ye of Him? What think ye of Him as the most perfect expression of God's love to you? Do you realize that if no other man had ever lived except yourself, and you in the state of man after the fall, that the death of Jesus Christ on the cross of Calvary would be necessary for your salvation—for the salvation of just one individual? And that I may realize the best of His salvation, I must come to know that Christ's death was to save me. This is certainly an expression of infinite love of Christ for the sinner, reaching the climax of expression in the prayer of the Master: 'Father forgive them, for they know not what they do.'"

SUPPER MUSIC

The musical setting for yesterday's sacred service, superlative in the singing of sacred songs from KHJ carried the message which the voice of the singer, the words and music carried yesterday, Linda Brewer Stanley, accompanied by Martha Madson, offered three selections. The first, "Let Your Light Shine," her own composition, was a sermon in itself. "I believe the Bible," by Rev. E. S. Ufford, gave reasons for belief in the word of God, and the third, "What Will You Do With Jesus," was especially in harmony with the text of Dr. Dwyer's sermon. Mrs. Stanley has a vocal charm which was highly appreciated by her listeners yesterday and her announcement brought every word of her songs to them clearly.

Frank J. Steiner, cello soloist, and A. J. Adams, pianist, both members of the Artist Ensemble of Pasadena, interpreted four cello numbers, that for sheer beauty stand in a class by themselves. His "Berceuse," from "Jocelyn," by Georges Fromet, by "Minuet Antique," by Van Praet, were enjoyed by listeners in the telephone Times following the sacred service. In addition to these he offered "Cantilena," from A Minor Concerto, by Giletti, and "Song," by Georges Fromet, by Dvorak. The remarkable tonal quality of the cello, plus the artistry of Mrs. Steiner, a combination which, as one listener expressed it, "brought tears of joy to her eyes."

crash towels, there is a tin can of powder; another of cold cream; a pretty little green box full of green paint and stick; a package of little rolled-up dinguses to make lines on the face with.

"Three thirty-five, please," said I, and he took the tin can of powder, the cold cream and the green paint and stick, and he said: "Well, that's rotten, anyway. He decided, and humiliated her by an utterly unkind array of remarks. And the poor old soul merely felt horribly crushed—almost wept—and promised with a tremor in her voice that she would try to do better."

It wasn't so much the actual incident as it was the indication of the youth's known attitude toward the instructor. I discovered that we were all exactly the type that the studios were looking for—which was most comforting.

SHAKING DOWN PLUMS

About the third lesson they start to talk about photographs. Must have photographs—secured at an address furnished by the nice instructor. These only cost another trifling $15 or so—$30 if you want real stylish ones. And about the time you begin to ask about that $150-a-week contract, or even a mere "extras" job, you are disconcerted to learn that a few lessons in acting will be necessary.

And at every class for the make-up you must grease your face all over by yourself, black your eyes over, powder the lot, put your face a good deal, and possibly once during the evening the instructor will look at you and say, "Now take it all off and begin over again."

Mostly he took no notice at all of me unless I asked him a question. One or two of us began agitating for a job, making covert reminders of those fairy promises. We usually got snubbed. But if we didn't take the snubbing with proper modest refinement we might be warned that they would call us up tomorrow.

One day I really did get a call. I hurried down, mentally spending my $150 a week on the way. But alas, I was a few minutes too late—the position had been filled! I was positively heart-broken.

I asked what studio I had missed. He said it was the Century. (This man was the husband of the burlesque lady.) So, in my pathetic eagerness I called up the Century and asked them if they were getting their cast through this agency. And they said they were not.

Oh, dear, it was dreadful to doubt so impressive a looking gentleman. But somehow my confidence was beginning to wilt. It will, you know—no matter how refined one is.

That was a black and mournful day.

REGAL CANINES TO STRUT STAGE

Dogdom's finest, more than 500 in number, will vie for honors Saturday and Sunday when the Hollywood Kennel Club opens the "big tent" on Hollywood Boulevard for the greatest dog classic ever held in the West.

Forty-nine classes of royally-bled canines will be represented at the show. It was stated by those in charge. Practically every kind of dog known to man, and some that are practically unknown will be included. In the latter class will be Samoyeds, Schipperkes, Sealhounds, terriers and wire-haired dachshunds and a few others with more or less unpronounced names but with family trees which would do justice to the Kaiser.

Honorary entries lead in numbers in the list of entries, with eighty representatives. There are seventy-five shepherd dogs, this class including what is popularly termed the "big tent" on Hollywood Boulevard for the greatest dog classic ever held in the West.

The biggest dog entered in the show is Roy Comstock's St. Bernard which was seen with Mary Pickford in "Little Lord Fauntleroy." This dog weighs 185 pounds. The smallest dog is that of Mrs. E. J. Carleton, 4444 Harriet avenue, plucked one Friday from a tree that had been battling the weather the last three years.

It is also agreed by the first party that the second party is to pay the balance of the second part. Party of the first part also agrees to give party of the second part every possible assistance in obtaining steady work in motion-pictures and to give party of the second part employment in six (6) productions if party of the second part is of suitable type.

"In witness of the parties have set their hands this day and year first above written."

"Deposits on instruction course will not be refunded."

REMARKABLE "TIP"

Now wasn't that a lot of fuss over a delightful document chiefly remarkable for its "tip"? They were infinitely more business-like at the 7 o'clock class on Spring street, where the Olive-Garden gentleman sent me. A bright, young woman received me, took my name, gave me a class card, and asked me to sign the contract. Made no bones about giving me a copy as follows:

This agreement made and entered into this 23rd day of October, 1935, by and between Mr. [Name], party of the first part, and Mrs. [Name], party of the second part, both of the city of Los Angeles, State of California.

Whereas Party of the first part, in consideration of the sum of $15, paid by party of the second part, agrees to give party of the second part, a course of acting and make-up, for a period of two weeks, from date of this contract.

Party of the first part, also agrees to give party of the second part, every possible assistance in obtaining employment, and agrees to give party of the second part employment in three productions, if party of the second part is the type or character needed, when there are orders in from the different studios.

There is a jolly little "tip" in that, too, you may note. But, so remained gloriously self-confident in my refinement.

The right young woman sent me to Room 319, where I found a large room with long tables, a most superlative young man in an artist's smock, and eleven men and one woman busily making up. But it appears that I was early and had to wait for the next class. They have several every evening to the full capacity of the room.

EAST INSTRUCTIONS

When my turn came there were three women and nine men. The Adonis in the smock at least made a pretense of giving us instruction. But he left the room frequently.

During one of these absences one young man said:

"I wonder how much these guys really do for us. I got a friend who says they have took $150 away from him already—for make-up, photos, acting lessons, camera work and all that, and he ain't seen a sign of a job yet."

We all looked properly shocked. Really, don't you know, it seemed positively vicious to doubt the integrity of such kind, benevolent gentlemen as these enthusiastic agents.

When the instructor returned to spoil the conversation, a man told him that he had applied at half a dozen studios for work, telling that he was a pupil of the make-up classes and they had only laughed at him.

"Oh, you shouldn't mention the classes," said the smocked instructor. "Just tell 'em you are experienced. You don't want 'em to think you are an 'amateur.'"

Well, that's rotten, anyway. He decided, and humiliated her by an utterly unkind array of remarks. And the poor old soul merely felt horribly crushed—almost wept—and promised with a tremor in her voice that she would try to do better."

It wasn't so much the actual incident as it was the indication of the youth's known attitude toward the instructor. I discovered that we were all exactly the type that the studios were looking for—which was most comforting.

Demands Calumet

—because it has more than the ordinary leavening strength; it raises millions of bakings every day to a light perfectly baked perfection that cannot be equaled.

—because it contains white-egg—the vital element that gives the housewives protection against using a baking powder that has lost its original leavening strength. It assures light, tender, tasteful things every time you bake.

—because it is economical—pure, sure and wholesome.

That's why the sale of Calumet is over 150% greater than that of any other baking powder.

ARMISTICE DAY SERMONS DENUNCIATIONS OF WAR Churches Throughout City Unite in Declaring Further Conflict Must be Prevented

Under the rubric of a continent, wrought through a series of centuries, this is no time to blacken our lips with words of war.

It is the one of the striking sentences spoken by Dr. Ray, pastor of the West Adams Methodist Church, in a sermon preached yesterday in observance of Armistice Day.

The theme of many excellent discourses given in the churches yesterday, and excerpts from some of them are given. The address by Dr. Harker was in part a callous indifference to moral values in high places at home.

SHOWS IMPORTANCE OF SMALL THINGS

Dr. Bruce Brown, pastor of the South Park Christian Church, preached yesterday on "Danger Ahead." He said in part:

"The infinite importance of little things is illustrated by the history of the Egyptian moth in America. A Harvard professor, who entertained the vain hope of advantageously crossing the creature with the silk worm, allowed his one specimen to be blown out of the window. He thought nothing of the matter beyond the loss of a little insect. In a few years the fruit growers of Massachusetts complained to the government of the destruction of their orchards. An investigation disclosed the fact that the havoc was being wrought by the Egyptian moth. Three hundred and fifty square miles have been devastated and $2,000,000 has been spent in fighting the evil that began in the carelessness of a college professor and a gust of wind.

"The seeds of sin and death are lightly sown in their sowing, but the harvest is seen in the wreckage of countless lives. Europe has been wrecked and great kingdoms overthrown by the thought that might could take what it wished."

DECLARES JESUS WAS DIVINE MAN

Dr. Herbert Booth Smith of Emmanuel Presbyterian Church preached yesterday morning on "The Uniqueness of Christ." He spoke in part as follows:

"Jesus had a divine personality that could not be hid by drawn blinds or closed doors. The Bible comes closer to men than they think. Christ is unique in His incarnation. He is the only real, historical person in all history who ever claimed to be the human manifestation of God, living consistently with that claim, abundantly proved that claim, and was wounded to death because of that claim. Henry Van Dyke in his 'Age of Doubt' maintains that the Gospel of Christ meets the needs of the present time because it is a Gospel built about a personality and personality is a fact. He insists on an unwavering belief in the 'human life of God,' a very real and definite man, not merely a vesture which God has folded over His person. Christ is unique and self-sufficient. Judaism didn't produce Him. Evolution can't account for Him. Philosophy stumbles over Him. History has to stop and begin over again because of Him. Men of all shades of opinion are coming more and more to realize and admit that Jesus of Nazareth was an extraordinary man, a religious genius, the world's best and only wonder."

DECLARES AMERICA IS HOPE OF WORLD

Declaring that "American and English democracy solve the present world situation" by applying to domestic and foreign problems the principles of Christ, Dr. J. Whitcomb Brounger brought an interesting Armistice Day message to his congregation yesterday. Excerpts from Dr. Brounger's discourse follows:

"Caesar is the incarnation of material force. Christ is the incarnation of spiritual power. Twenty centuries have beheld the conflict between these two mighty forces. Caesar has relied upon his cunning, his regions and ruthless power. Christ has moved forward under the banner of love and peace, gentleness and meekness, brotherhood and faith, service and sacrifice. It is the mailed fist of the warrior against the pierced hand of the Christ. As we celebrate the sacrifice of our finest young men and young women in the service of humanity, I want to ask the question, on this Armistice Day, what is the answer? Shall we make a democracy that shall be safe to rule the world? It is said that they died to make the world safe for democracy. I prefer to think they died that we might make a democracy that shall be safe for the world of mankind. America is today the hope of the world—America and England, and American and English democracy must solve the present world situation. If it does not, there is no hope for the world. The principles of Jesus Christ must meet the needs and solve the problems of the world or they will never be met. The Christ and His religion can furnish a solution to every problem known to man. Experience, Christ is the hope of humanity. He is the hope of the nations. The most important obligation resting upon America and Great Britain today is to apply the principles of Jesus Christ to the solving of their home problems and then to the solving of world problems."

"GOOD NEWS TO ALL"

Clinton A. Billie was the speaker at the Church of the People yesterday morning. His address in part follows:

"Blessed are those who are descending on men like local showers on the earth—but the deluge of good news is to come. While men are shouting for joy, here and there, now and then, men, as a race, stand dumb, expectant but still ignorant of the universal 'good news' which shall be to all people. However, such 'good news' is being heralded now from many heavenly sections.

POSTOFFICE WILL MOVE WEDNESDAY

Main Part of Staff to be in New Quarters; Change Relieves Congestion

When the Los Angeles Postoffice is established in its new quarters at Third street and Central avenue, Wednesday morning, there will be only 121 employees left at the old main office in the Federal Building.

A staff of 800 will occupy the new building. Thirty-five of these are carriers. To insure comfort for the workers the new heating plant was put in commission yesterday and by Wednesday the concrete construction and flooring will be thoroughly dried.

With the second floor of the Federal Building vacant, Collector Goodell and the internal revenue officials, whose offices are now scattered throughout six floors, will be able to centralize their department.

This will mean the expenditure of about $20,000, but the architect of the United States Treasury has prepared blueprints to indicate the necessary changes. It now remains to secure the needed cash. This may entail official approval from Washington and the transfer of funds for the work.

JAYWALKER LAW AGAIN

Public Safety Committee Will Discuss Measure Today

The Public Safety Committee of the City Council this afternoon will consider again the proposed ordinance regulating pedestrian traffic, the measure having been voted by Mayor Crier. It is expected that Chief Engineer Osborne of the Board of Public Utilities, Capt. McDowell of the police traffic squad and other experts will appear before the committee and assist in preparing a new ordinance to meet the objections pointed out by the Mayor.

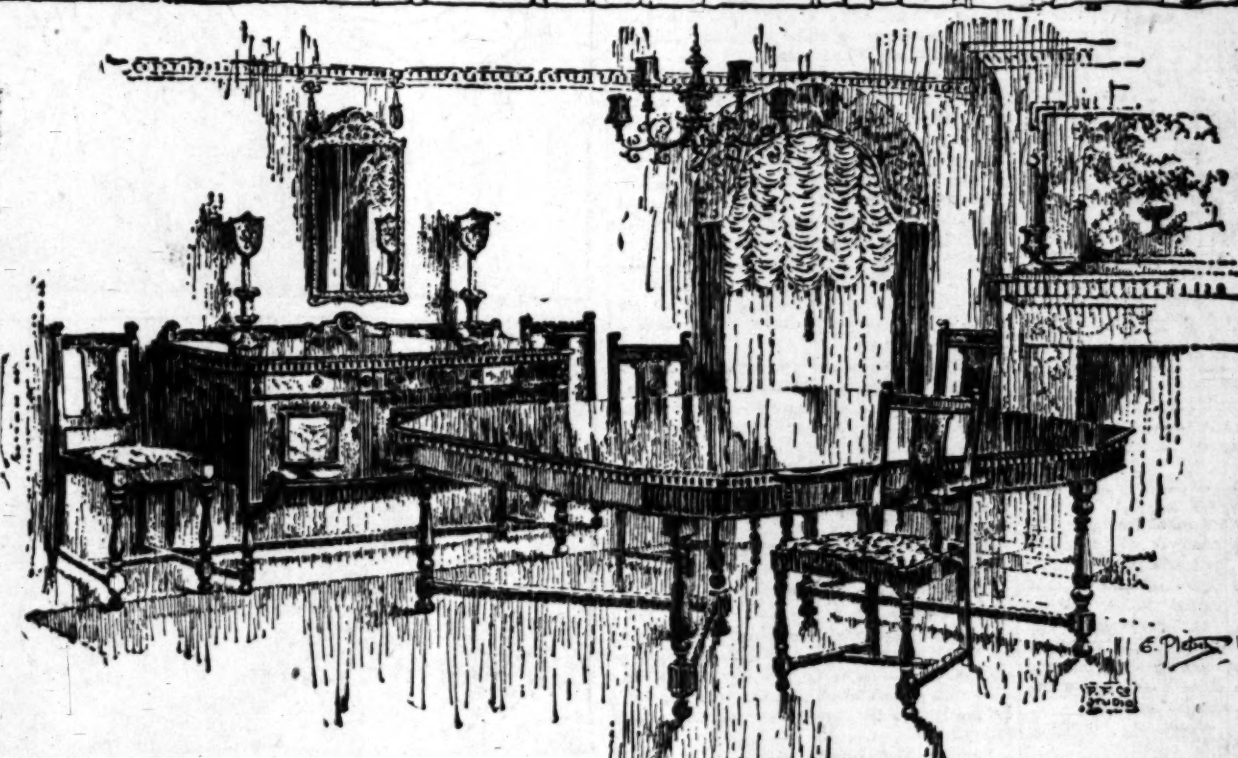

Chief Engineer Osborne has already submitted to the Los Angeles Traffic Commission, of which he is executive chairman, a plan for regulating pedestrian traffic by clearing the intersections of vehicle traffic in all directions for intervals to permit pedestrians to cross the streets in safety, and this will be one of the subjects for discussion. The ordinance in its revised form will then be presented to the Council for consideration.

Collector Finds Tax Trade
Does Good Business

A survey of internal revenue returns for October, just completed by Collector Goodell, reflects a steady and increasing expansion of business in the local district.

Although facing a pronounced shrinkage in receipts owing to reductions in rates under the new revenue act, the income tax collections for October were practically the same as the receipts for the same month of 1931.

The collector's office reported that the receipts were $446,123.22, as against $449,323.17 for October, 1931.

MORE INCOME RETURNS

This showing is due to the fact that 47,336 more separate income returns were filed in 1932 than in 1931, and hence the view of the collector that increased business and the acquisition of new and desirable population have virtually offset the shrinkage in revenue caused by reductions in the various classes of taxes.

Manufacturers' tax collections on oleomargarine more than doubled over last October.

That more business was done in bonds and real estate is indicated by an increase of 15 per cent in the sale of documentary stamps.

That business is booming in the telegraph and telephone activities is shown by an increase of 18 per cent in receipts of taxes for message.

Collections of the special tax on theaters, a 50 per cent over October, 1931, while bowling alley and billiard halls came to the front with an increase of 12 per cent.

Tobacco and roof gardens are feeling the expansion in trade. The receipts from admission taxes on this class of resorts increased 20 per cent.

Even athletics, sporting and social clubs are booming up for the tax collections on dues and membership advanced 22 per cent over October, 1931.

That more manager L. T. hire automobiles were in commission in October, 1932, than in October, 1931, is indicated by an increase of 10 per cent in receipts from this source of 10 per cent.

The collector's office is expanding the automobile club.

Collector Goodell has figured out that the latest survey of California and eleven other states pay $6.19 per cent of the total income as tax receipts of the government.

Friends Ask Police to Find
Pasadena Miss Who Disappeared Last Wednesday

Fearing that she has been kidnapped, friends of Miss Ines Miller, 16 years old, of 21 West Walnut street, Pasadena, requested police yesterday to institute search for the girl who has been missing since Wednesday.

According to Miss Margaret Moser, 71 Wilma street, Pasadena, Miss Miller left the home of a friend at 178 Center street, Pasadena, at about 4:30 p. m. Wednesday night. She was going home. However, nothing has been heard from the girl since she left her friend's home.

The girl is described as being four feet tall, weighing about 125 pounds and was wearing a dark blue one-piece dress and a black coat. She was carrying a small bag.

Miss Moser expressed the belief that her friend had been abducted by some men in an automobile who had offered to drive her home after she had left her friend's house.

She is on the lookout for a car containing a girl of her description.

MYSTERY BLAZE
AT BEACH JAIL

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
LONG BEACH, Nov. 12.—The second mysterious fire in the past twenty-four hours and the third in the past three weeks in the city jail here is being investigated by police officials today.

The last fire was discovered early today by Desk Sergeant J. E. Vanoy and Desk Officer J. E. Hall in the drunk tank of the jail. They found a number of newspapers had been wedged together and placed against a wooden partition where they had been set afire.

The officers extinguished the blaze but it could make land-ward and thus presented a serious conflagration. All of the prisoners in the tank profess ignorance as to the identity of the man responsible for the fire.

Less than twenty-four hours before, officers discovered another fire in the cell where the prisoners in this cell were questioned they declared that they had built the fire to keep warm. Three weeks ago, an inmate man, confined in the padded cell, set fire to his bedclothing, the padding on the cell being consumed by the flames.

FIRM TO OPEN

Parnelee - Dohrmann Will

Company's Rise Came With City's Growth

Vision of Founder Seen in Expansions

When Z. L. Parnelee was the sole clerk in a general store at First and Spring streets in 1876, he had faith in the future of Los Angeles. But his wildest dream did not visualize that the name of Parnelee would be connected with a business occupying a six-story modern building on Broadway, each floor filled with the finest hardware, hotel and restaurant supplies.

Through faith in Los Angeles, attention to business and up-to-date business methods this transition has been accomplished. And Wednesday next the great house of Parnelee-Dohrmann Company will celebrate the opening of the beautiful home of its expansion.

The opening will testify not only to the tremendous development of Parnelee-Dohrmann Company, but to the unprecedented growth of the entire Southwest.

The history of the development of this house is also the history of the development of Southern California.

GROW WITH CITY

A brief glance backward will recall how really great this development has been. In 1878 C. W. Olmsted opened a general store at First and Spring streets. The store was in an adobe building of small size. It had a porch stretching across the front of the store on a level with the unpaved, rutted street. Customers turned their horses into a corral in the rear of the store. For those days purchases were extensive.

L. O. Parnelee was the sole clerk. Business grew and quarters were necessary. A new home was obtained on North Spring street. A wholesale department was added and another move was made to larger quarters. The store went to 216-218 North Main street, which is the present location of the Parnelee-Dohrmann Company.

Crocery became an important line, and finally expanded into a department store. The stock of groceries was entirely closed out. In the face of the fiercest competition, business continued through the boom years of 1886-1897, and the years of depression that followed.

The store was decided upon in 1890. The store went out of the business on 121-123 South Spring street. Broadway was then Fort street, a strictly residence district.

BECAME PARTNERSHIP

C. A. Parnelee joined the organization as part owner of the business in 1892. The firm name became Parnelee & Dohrmann. Two years later the company was incorporated as the Z. L. Parnelee Company. Parnelee & Dohrmann retired from the business in 1898, and C. A. Parnelee completed the business while in the city of Los Angeles. Plans were made to incorporate. A new business emerged when F. W. Dohrmann of San Francisco joined with C. A. Parnelee. This marked the start of the business under the name of Parnelee-Dohrmann Company. The business developed under the able management of A. B. C. Dohrmann.

In 1906 the company went to 426-44 Broadway, occupying only part of the building. The business grew until it was necessary to occupy the entire building of six floors.

Help for Dry

by Lineberger

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
LONG BEACH, Nov. 12.—Congressman Re-elect Lineberger will go to Washington tomorrow. He is learned today. Maj. Lineberger's intention to return to the national capital, became known when a committee formed in connection with the Wright Act victory to be held here last week, one of the Congressmen and requested that he speak at the celebration.

Lineberger, after expressing his disappointment at not being able to address the celebration, declared:

"The people of this district may rest assured, however, that I shall do everything in my power in fighting for the prohibition while in Congress."

It is to be regretted that a number of California representatives in Congress are not in sympathy with the Wright Act and the prohibition.

"I have pledged myself to guard the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act, and I shall leave no stone unturned in carrying out my pledges."

Report Fake Secret Service
Scheme Was Used

Applicants for Positions Put Up $50 Deposit

Three months investigation of the affairs of an organization, with offices in the Chamber of Commerce Building, which, during the recent building shop strike collected over $2000, according to deputy sheriff, yesterday ended in the arrest of H. D. Kling, aged 30 years, a painter and decorator, and Mrs. Nancy M. Hoffman, aged 31 years, on the charge of using the mails to defraud. Both were taken to the County Jail.

Kling and Mrs. Hoffman, according to Deputy Sheriff Fox who handled the case, obtained a large amount of money from men who applied to them for positions as guards during the strike. Through advertisements they had the applicants apply at their office at Room 24, Chamber of Commerce Building.

There they would state that they were authorized agents for the Southern Pacific and had letter heads bearing the name of "South Pacific Secret Service," according to Fox. Holding out a plum in the form of a salary offering of $100 a day, Kling and his associate partner, Fox declared, would accept from each applicant $50 deposit which they would "pay for a gun, handcuffs, and other equipment." The applicants would then be asked to return in a week to go to work.

Kling and Mrs. Hoffman were living at the same address, according to Fox when they were arrested yesterday in a bungalow at 1233 East Fifty-eighth street. Kling formerly conducted a painting and decorating business at West Sixteenth street. The arrests of Kling and Mrs. Hoffman were made by Fox and Chief Inspector Burgess of the Southern Pacific.

"I guess they got the right dope on me all right," Kling told a reporter after he was released for a statement relative to his case, yesterday at the County Jail. He is now a Federal prisoner in Tank 5.

"After I had been gyped out of my savings of a lifetime accumulated back in Davis, Iowa, I had my skull fractured in an automobile accident. When I got out of the hospital I had to get some money quick. Since I couldn't work I hit upon the idea which has led to my arrest," Kling declared.

"I never had an arrangement with the railroads for which I was getting guards and I don't know whether any of the men who came to my office ever got jobs or not," he concluded.

Kling denied Mrs. Hoffman was his wife. He said he had married her to work in his office as a stenographer and clerk. Mrs. Hoffman declined to comment on the case.

Doctor Finally Convinces
Man That Fence, Not Bullet, Struck Him

Royal Shelton has yet to feel the sting of a firing bullet, but he is all night long in agony and it took Police Surgeon Dunmore at the Receiving Hospital to convince him that it was sudden death with a high board fence that caused a slight injury to his left leg.

Police Officer L. A. Peterson of the Division brought in Shelton after picking him up behind a fence on the corner of Western and Western avenues. Peterson reported that Shelton was a burly man, about 30 years of age, and that he had been following him for thirty minutes on a tour of Western avenue houses, at last he called on Shelton to halt, he says, and the latter ran. Officer Peterson fired and at the same moment Shelton, while looking back over his shoulder, ran into a fence. The shot and the fence were too much for Shelton, but by exercise of great will power he lived until he reached the Receiving Hospital.

Shelton was booked at the City Jail on suspicion of burglary. It was asserted that he robbed the home of Frank Shiner, former chief of the Police Department, at Pico street and Western avenue.

HOW TO LIGHT UP A COP

That's the Question Puzzling City Electrician; Traffic
Officers Must Be Visible at Night

City Electrician Manahan is wrestling with the problem of how to illuminate crossing traffic officers so that they will be visible at night. The difficulty of the problem, Mr. Manahan said yesterday, was not that of finding ways and means of lighting up the cops at night, but the real brain twister was to find a light that would make the officers visible during the twilight hours.

As soon as it became known about town that the City Council had ordered Mr. Manahan to light up the crossing policemen, especially those in the busy outlying sections, the chief electrician received many samples of alleged "ideas" for solving the problem. One citizen said that only bald-headed policemen should be selected as traffic officers and that the City Electrician should use the light to determine the plan to be used.

Another suggestion was to have a large spotlight on a building facing the intersection, the rays to be directed on the officer. This it was said would practically blind the officer, so it is probable that lights of various sizes and colors will be suspended over the officer's head so as to determine the plan to be used.

Manahan said yesterday that the problem is a real brain twister. He said that the problem is a real brain twister. He said that the problem is a real brain twister. He said that the problem is a real brain twister.

Manahan said yesterday that the problem is a real brain twister. He said that the problem is a real brain twister. He said that the problem is a real brain twister.

GENTILE GOES TO SYNAGOGUE

Finds Spirit of Devoutness

Rabbi Preaches Humanitarian Peace Sermon

Visitor Impressed by "Good Housekeeping"

BY ALMA WHITAKER
I wonder how many Gentiles really know about the Jews.

Unless we are rather broad and liberal I doubt we possess a very clear vision of the Jewish people. I learned, baptized and confirmed as an Episcopalian, visited my first Jewish synagogue on Friday evening—the Final Fifth Temple at Ninth and Hope streets, of which Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin is pastor.

The Jews, like the Christians, have several denominations, and the Final Fifth is known as the Reform branch—which is just another name for the Final Fifth Temple at Ninth and Hope streets, of which Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin is pastor.

One's first impression of the well-lighted temple is of good housekeeping. The floor is carpeted and scrupulously kept. The cushions on the benches are soft and comfortable. The service is conducted with the utmost precision and the music is of the highest quality.

The service opened with exquisite music, furnished by a hidden choir which is concealed above the altar. Rabbi Magnin was the director and organist. Mrs. Hayes Hastings, the soprano, Mrs. Muller the contralto, Mrs. F. W. W. the tenor, and Harold Ostrom the baritone.

And that choir is probably one of the best in town. Its music was reverent, exquisite, devout, and this music is a component part of the service interspersed throughout the prayers and the responsive readings.

The prayers are particularly beautiful, some of them handed down from very ancient times, and breathing of human understanding, hope, devotion. Thanksgiving, penitence.

It was a wet evening and California was noticeably afraid of rain. But the temple service was well attended.

Rabbi Magnin had just returned from a trip to Seattle and was frankly disappointed at what he found as a sparse congregation—for that temple is usually crowded on Friday evenings and Saturday mornings.

The service opened with exquisite music, furnished by a hidden choir which is concealed above the altar. Rabbi Magnin was the director and organist. Mrs. Hayes Hastings, the soprano, Mrs. Muller the contralto, Mrs. F. W. W. the tenor, and Harold Ostrom the baritone.

And that choir is probably one of the best in town. Its music was reverent, exquisite, devout, and this music is a component part of the service interspersed throughout the prayers and the responsive readings.

The prayers are particularly beautiful, some of them handed down from very ancient times, and breathing of human understanding, hope, devotion. Thanksgiving, penitence.

AMSON ELEVEN VICTORS

Strengthen Hold on Lead in Soccer League by Defeating Long Beach United

The Long Beach United soccer team at Washington yesterday afternoon, 4 to 0, the Samson Tire Company eleven to its advantage in the league standing and is now undisputed leader.

Under pressure, though here, of course, the disjointed character of the offense was bound to tell. The veterans were greatly lacking in cohesion, due in some measure to the fact that the team is still in an experimental stage.

PLAY GREAT GAME
The final score showed the United with 10 goals and the Over-seas 4, although in all fairness to the vanquished, the margin should not have been so great. Elder and Mellor were not sparing of their energies and worked manfully.

SCORERS SHOW
Goals were scored by Elder, who was the star of the game, and Mellor, who scored twice. The game was a very good one, and the United team played very well.

The league standing follows:
Samson Tire Co. 10 goals
Overseas 4 goals
Long Beach United 0 goals
Washington 0 goals
Pasadena 0 goals
Los Angeles 0 goals
Santa Monica 0 goals
Beverly Hills 0 goals
Malibu 0 goals
Manhattan Beach 0 goals

GRID EVIDENCE SUMMED UP
The evidence in the case of the gridiron is summed up as follows: The United team is the best in the league, and the Overseas team is the second best.

PROSPECTS BRIGHTER
The prospects for the future are brighter than ever before. The United team is expected to win the championship, and the Overseas team is expected to be a close contender.

TROJANS TOO STRONG IN DEFENSIVE DEPARTMENT

Southern California's Style of Play Uninteresting, Says Northern Scribe

BY ED R. HUGHES
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—That game at the Stanford Stadium Saturday was hard fought and well played for the most part, but it was uninteresting. It was uninteresting because both U.S.C. and Stanford have concentrated on defense and neither team has a strong or a spectacular offense.

A game between these two teams is like a boxing match between Jack Johnson and another man just like him. If you could have found another boxer of Johnson's skill and strength and put him in the ring with Jack when Jack was good, you could have gone off to sleep and snored a couple of hours, feeling sure that you would not miss anything.

U.S.C. lost a big flock of letters this year, for it is sound strategy for them to do so, but from the standpoint of the spectator the game is deadly dull when two teams of that kind hook up.

JOE BECKETT TO INVADE AMERICA

BY HARRY NEWMAN
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Joe Beckett is coming to America at last.

Tex Rickard has invited the British champion to make the trip and everything is practically set for Joseph to meet Tommy Gibbons in a fifteen-round battle in the Garden sometime late next month. What a lucky chap is Mr. Beckett, and by the same token, what an awful dunce is that cave-man Battling Siki.

When the latter took a rap at an inoffensive manager in Paris the other night, he just about kicked himself out of a quarter of a million dollars. That is about what that roughneck would have realized on a trip to the United States and now it is all going to be for Joe Beckett.

Maybe not quite that much, but surely enough to keep him going for the rest of his days.

Pasadena, next Saturday. Then, after a rest of more than a week, U.S.C. closes the season with a game with Washington State on Thanksgiving Day. Not much to fear from either Idaho or Washington State this year.

Coach Henderson was plainly surprised when he heard that California had beaten the University of Washington, 45-7. Henderson said the 61-0 defeat California plastered on Washington meant little, for the boys from Pullman were badly battered and all worn out by the long ride down here.

They did little but go through the motions, said Henderson.

But the University of Washington had laid off a week just to get ready for California, so Henderson expected the Bears to have a lot of trouble at Seattle on Saturday.

Then came the news of that 45-7 score, and now Henderson believes more strongly than ever that U.S.C. is quite a team, for California scored only 12 points against U.S.C.

Both games I saw U.S.C. play this year were very uninteresting. The reason is that Henderson knew all of California's and Stanford's plays—knew them so well, in fact, that the California and Stanford players suspected the U.S.C. boys of having played two ties.

However, should Poly defeat L. A. High and Jefferson upset Franklin, Long Beach and Manual Arts would be tied for the title, providing they won their games Friday.

This would necessitate a play-off game for the championship as the two classics were not scheduled to meet this season. Providing Long Beach and Manual do not have to meet for the title, Poly and Manual will meet November 24 in a post-season game that will have no bearing on the championship.

All of the annual battles are scheduled for this week's grid menu. Poly and L. A. High will renew their ancient feud at Washington Park, Long Beach will attempt to strangle its old-time rival, Pasadena, on the Bulldogs' gridiron.

Manual will try to exterminate Ray Call's ill-treated Poochillers and Franklin and Jefferson, who hope to be deadly rivals in the future, will clash on the Democrats' field.

GAMES THIS WEEK
Los Angeles High and Polytechnic at Washington
Long Beach at Pasadena
Manual Arts at Jefferson
Franklin at Jefferson

Having held the strong Polytechnic Mechanics to a 6-to-6 tie at Patterson Field last Friday, Franklin High, the only team in the league that has not suffered defeat, is sitting pretty and almost has the City League championship clinched. The Printers have only to defeat or tie Jefferson this Friday and they will have won the title.

Coach Daugherty and his assistant, Charley Toney, who have shown the Kitefliers their stuff this season, are to be highly congratulated on their work in making Franklin's debut into the City League more than a success. If the Printers do win the title, they will have accomplished something that Pasadena, L. A. High, Lincoln, Hollywood and Jefferson have not done since 1915, when the American grid game replaced rugby.

At present, Franklin looks like a cinch to trim Jefferson as the Democrats have failed to show anything except Lareneta and a lot of fight to date. The Democrats have been downed by Long Beach, Poly and Manual by two-touchdown, on over, margins and they do not appear to be in the same class with the fighting Franklins.

Should L. A. High defeat Poly this week and Jeff trim Franklin, the Printers will be recognized as city champs, as they have downed Manual and Long Beach in games earlier in the season. Should this happen, Franklin will have defeated the champs, L. A. High, but the Gophers will have a higher percentage because of the Kitefliers' having played two ties.

However, should Poly defeat L. A. High and Jefferson upset Franklin, Long Beach and Manual Arts would be tied for the title, providing they won their games Friday. ANGELENOS FLOCK TO AUTO SHOW

New Attendance Record Set by Huge Throng at Big Motor Classic

A new attendance record for automobile shows was established at the big Prager Park tent show yesterday and Saturday, more than 15,000 persons checking into the big exhibit for the two days. This exceeds previous attendance figures for the two opening days by several thousands persons, according to statistics kept by Manager Burt Roberts and is an indication of the enthusiastic reception which is being accorded the tenth annual Los Angeles automobile show by the Southern California motoring public.

New cars, new 1923 models, special custom built "Jobs," commercial cars of all kinds, heavy duty trucks and a hundred and one different accessories vied with each other for the interest of the thousands who packed themselves into the big tents for the purpose of seeing and comparing the offerings of the automobile manufacturing world.

The automobile show committee headed by Harry Lord, yesterday declared that the coming seven days of the exhibit are expected to attract thousands of persons from all points in Southern and Central California. The trade aspect of the big display is being emphasized by the motor men to a greater extent this year than ever before.

Scores of big dealer meetings and trade conventions are being planned for the next few days and automobile men from all points of California will be on hand for the various trade gatherings.

Middleweights Mix Again at Vernon Arena
Leo Matlock, Oakland middleweight, who lost a close decision to Young George at Vernon last week, will again don the mitts with the local favorite in the main event at Doyle's tomorrow night. The big fellows had the spectators standing up, so terrific was the milling in the ring. Tomorrow's battle gives promise of being a repeater, but the Oaklander hopes with a different result.

Rud Manning, the Seattle flyweight, will make his bow to the Southland fans when he stacks up against the little Sacramento lad, Frankie Novey, in the semi-wind-up.

The balance of the card as arranged by Matchmaker Wad Wadkins follows:
Eddie Roberts vs. Bobby Allen, 145; Joe Layman vs. Frankie Munroe, catchweights; Al Guillot vs. Eddie Drew, 115; Dan Gillen vs. Soldier Burke, 165; Johnny McGraw vs. Al Bowers, 120.

ELECT OFFICERS
Officers were elected at a meeting of the Cleary Athletic Club recently. Jimmy Cleary was re-elected president, Pat Armstrong was elected vice-president. Wes Kingdon was elected secretary and John Verne was elected treasurer.

Johnson was a defensive fighter and unless the other fellow brought the fight to him there was no fight. It is easy to understand why Elmer Henderson, at U.S.C., and his first thought was to construct a strong defense and hold down the score. U.S.C. should go through the rest of the season without a defeat. That team meets Idaho at knowing their signals. U.S.C. was purely a defensive team and put in all its time breaking up the plays of its opponents. (Continued on Second Page)

Gordon Campbell, Coach Gloomy Henderson's safety man, being nailed by Mertz of Stanford.
